PROJECTS

Money Management Tracker

Developed a full-stack web application using Java, JSP, Servlets, Hibernate, and MySQL to manage personal income and expenses. Features include user authentication, adding expense, and view expense to help users track and control their budget effectively.

Foodie App

Built a full-stack Food Delivery web application using Java, JSP, and MySQL, featuring user authentication, dynamic menus, and cart-based ordering. Implemented MVC architecture with servlet handling and JDBC for database integration. Deployed version-controlled source code using Git and GitHub.

Automated Traffic Accident Detection and Alert System

Designed a real-time traffic accident detection web application using Flask, integrating YOLO-based object detection to analyse vehicle damage and abnormal motion patterns from video feeds. Automated emergency alerts with image and location data, enhancing response time and public safety through computer vision and deep learning.
